First, our contemporary the San Francisco Call, which had joined in the opposition to our proposal, examined into it dispassionately, found it good and joined with us. THE WAY OUT.

One thing is settled in the judgment of the producers of this State-the destinies Postmasters Appointed-Turf Notes of the fruit-growing interests of California must no longer be committed to the care of one, two, or three, or four, or even a dozen powerful speculators, who, by reason of the capital employed, the ramifications of shrewdly adjusted agencies, and the prestige of large business in the past, are able to receive advertisements and subscriptions, and to dictate to the raiser what he must sell sollect for the same. Rooms 21 and 22, Mer. for, and to the Eastern purchaser what he must pay. The one conservative thing about capital so invested is its loyalty to itself. Such dealers' interests all lie in the direction of making California fruits luxuries at the East, and in keeping the selling rate so high that only The King of Burmah is fortifying every avail- the few can avail of them. There is nothable point on the proposed line of British adling clearer than this. There is not one of these great shipping houses that has any permanent interest in this State. There is something above, beyond, more farreaching and vastly more important to California than the sale of her fruit this

These are to be had by making small homes a possibility and a reality in California in numbers to be enumerated by the thousands. Then our home dealers and shipping firms, who, we believe, want allowing publication by the press of the annual reports of bureau officers in adto do the right thing, and will see their way clear to it without slavery to Eastern was also considered, and it was decided to firms, will find their business ten-fold greater, better and more profitable than now. The man who stands in the way of this consummation is simply short-sighted. We cannot conceive of any one having his home and all his interests here willfully becoming an obstacle to any proper means to accomplish this end. The mists will presently clear away, opinions and judgments and interests will be harmonized, and, as one man, we shall all be laboring for a common end, the speediest attainment of Banning, Harry H. Cleveland Regulates the Office-Seeking Nuisance. WASHINGTON, October 27th.-The follow ng was to-day promulgated by the President for the information of the public: EXECUTIVE MANSION, October 27th.

For nearly eight months a large share of the ime of the President has been devoted to the nearing of applicants for office, and the dete hearing of applicants for office, and the deter-mination of appointments. Much of the time thus spent has undoubtedly subserved the pub-lic good; some of it has been sacrificed to the indulgence of people in their natural insistence upon useless interviews, and some of it has been unjustifiably wasted. The public welfare and a due regard for the claims of those whose inter-ests in the Government are entirely disconnecdue regard for the claims of those whose interests in the Government are entirely disconnected with office-holding, imperatively demand that in the future the time of the President be differently occupied, and he confidently expects that all good citizens will acquiesce in the propriety and reasonableness of the following plan adopted to that end: After the first day of November, the President will decline to grant interviews to those seeking public positions, or their advocates. On Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, during that month, from 10 to 11 in the Operations Against the Hostile Apaches. Washington, October 27th .- Col. Brady, of the Thirteenth Infantry, has sent he following communication to the War Department, touching the operations of the troops pursuing the hostile Apaches, under date of Santa Fe, October 9th:

I have ordered five troops of cavalry, under Colonel Morrow, to occupy the line from Cambrey, on the Southern Pacific Railway, to Minas Cienega, and to patrol this line daily from the Rio Grande to the Arizona line. These posts, with the daily patrols, will watch the country better than the former posts on the Mexican line, in my opinion, and enable us to get earlier information of any movements of the hostiles north through this Territory. The report of hostile Indians near the Datil mountains, about ten days ago, was incorrect. A party of Navajos, huntas incorrect. A party of Navajos, hunting in that country, were mistaken for paches. Eastern Purchases.

In order to show the extent of our Eastern purchases, and as an item of interest, we have carefully gone over the arrivals of Eastern freight, as published in the daily newspapers, and find THAT THUS FAR DURING THE YEAR 1885 WE HAVE RECEIVED MORE EASTERN FREIGHT CASES OR PACK AGES THAN ANY OTHER TWO HOUSES IN SACRA-MENTO IN OUR LINE OF BUSINESS.

If there are advantages at all in buying East-and that there are, no one will deny, then the above statement is CONVINCING PROOF in favor of our stores and the advantages which they present.

The fact is, our trade is so large that it justifies us in going into the Eastern markets for the purchase of even the smaller and more unimportant lines when advantages of any kind are to be gained thereby. During the year we have had a number of shipments DI-RECT FROM EUROPE, and it is probable that next season, with an increased trade, we shall buy even more largely there.

Our new system of Letter-box Orders for local trade is intended above all things to be a convenience. We want it used as such. Many people, perhaps, will hesitate about sending in small orders. This will be a mistake. We shall be just as quick and just as glad to fill single orders for pins, thread, shoe-strings, etc., as for larger and more important articles. Yesterday we had order blanks (giving location of boxes, hours of collecting orders, etc.), distributed at houses in vicinity of the boxes. Any person who did not chance to receive these blanks will be gladly supplied by so informing us, either by postal card or otherwise.

CALIFORNIA.

Desperate Shooting Affray. SAN FRANCISCO, October 27th.—The peo ple living in the vicinity of Pacific and Stockton streets were aroused this morning about 2 o'clock by a fusillade so rapid that it was mistaken for the explosion of a pack of fire-crackers. A squad of police officers ran in the direction of the shots and found the men lying on their sides on the sidewalk, with pistols near them, and both evidently in the throes of death. Both men were wounded, but not so seriously as at first thought. Two more men had had a recourse to murderous weapons to revenge themselves for hot words and a slap in the face, growing out of a dispute for money. The combatants in the street duel were Frederick Neil and Charles Reid. Neil is a short and squatty fellow of about 28 years of age, who bears anything but an enviable reputation. He is a victim to the morphine habit, and is recognized as belonging to the "lover" class, being known as the companion of Kate Farley, a most notorious street courtesan. Neil lives in room 28 of the Montreal House, at the corner of Broadway and Stockton streets, and was on his way homeward when the fusillade occurred. his parents on Washington street, near Taylor, his father being a member of the firm of Reid & Brooks, dealers in crockery.

THE FRUIT QUESTION. The California Fruit Union to the People

-A Letter. The following letter is from the Secretary of the California Fruit Union, the outgrowth of the late Fruit-Growers' Convention. It s self-explanatory: questions unless all the fruit-growers of the State cau be gotten to act in one organization. Inclosed is a circular just issued by the committee, showing what the fruit-growers of Florida have been compelled to do under far less difficult circumstances. Will you, in the public interest, carefully consider it, and print it in your columns, giving it such editorial mention as you see fit? The committee think it is a most opportune "pointer" of the way California fruit-growers shou'd go. Fully agreeing with you that "the fruit-market question affects not a class, but all classes," I am sincerely yours,

HORATIO P. LIVERMORE, Secretary.

The circular referred to, after calling attention to the Florida movement, says:

To the number of 358 individuals and firms, representing the entire fruit-producing area of Florida, they have formed themselves into the "Florida Fruit Exchange," an association having a capital stock of $50,000, in 500 shares of $500 each. Most of the subscribers have taken one share each, only fifty have taken more than one, and of that fifty only nine have taken so many as ten shares each, which is the highest number of shares in any one name. The published circular of the Florida Fruit Exchange sets forth that it "owes its existence to the imperative necessity of some improvements in the handling and marketing of the fruit crop of Florida." It goes on to say: "Within a period of ten years the export of oranges from Florida has risen from a value of $25,000 to the value of $2,500,000 for the crop of 1881-5. The return for which last crop, owing to improper handling of the fruit, the over supply in some markets and consequent glut, was far below our reasonable expectations, and below what it would have been if the shippers could have acted in concert."

The circular adds: "The necessity of action ention to the Florida movement, says :

ted in concert."
The circular adds: "The necessity of action The circular adds: "The necessity of action to prevent fature loss and disaster was so evident that the fruit-growers, with one accord, have organized the Florida Fruit Exchange, for the protection of their own interests, which are intended to be first, last and always the prominent object had in view."

It is the province of the "General Manager" to arrange all details of shipment of fruit, from whatever section of the State it may come, to designate its marked destination, so as to avoid all competition and to secure the best possible sales, and with the last mentioned aim in view, to make all necessary arrangements in the con-loss to both. It is provided that the commissions to be charged on sales by the Exchange, shall be the same as have been heretofore paid to commission houses; but all surplus earnings after operating expenses are paid, are to be returned to stockholders by dividends on their stock, which it is expected will practically amount to a large abatement on rate of commissions. Agencies at all important producing and shipping points are to be maintained under the control of the General Manager, and in daily telegraphic communication with him. The "Exchange" undertakes to make the most favorable possible contracts for freights, and to give to its stockholders shipping "the benefit of the reduction to carload rates on all shipments of whatever amount." "It aims to enlist the co-speration of every fruit-grower in Florida, whether his crop is large or small."

Mr. Livermore here interjects, "Does

The circular goes on to say that the Excitement in Chico Over the Postmas- Flarida organization sets forth : "That all fruit-growers shall combine in the surpose of the Exchange to obtain by a common mion, the best shipping facilities and the low-set rates of transportation, and that all fruit-growers shall aid the Exchange and subserve better the control of the contr

n interests by shipping their fruit the Exchange, so that every market eive only its proper supply, and not be y indiscriminate shipments." shall receive only its proper supply, and not be glutted by indiscriminate shipments."

Such, briefly condensed from its official publication, is the plan and scope of operations of the Florida Fruit Exchange, an organization for the mutual protection of the fruit-growers of Florida, which has grown out of a condition of things similar to that which now afflicts the fruit-growers of California, though far more aggravated in the case of California, because of its greater variety of fruits produced, its infinitely greater number of producers, its much greater distance from Eastern markets, and the vastly greater burden of freights and lack of transportation facilities in placing the fruit in such markets. The Committee from the recent Fruit-Growers Convention, deem it a duty to present the above information and statement of facts to each fruit-grower of California, and to ask his serious reflection thereon. Certainly if such an organization is necessary and practicable in Florida, it is equally so in California, and it may well be considered opportune that, just at the present critical moment, the way is thus pointed out to us by our Florida competitors. Were there no other beneficial effects to flow from such an organization, it would be most righly convenient on account of the investigation of the present critical moment, the way is thus pointed out to us by our Florida competitors.
